

EXCLUSIVE ITEM NUMBER AT TSU RESEARCH LIBRARY

Exclusive item number is the number specified in the catalogs as B-xxxxx.

Items with such numbers are stored in the Department of Rare Books and Manuscripts and can be borrowed only if there are no other copies in the library stock and only to the Professors' Reading Room, as well as other documents from the DRBM stock.

At present, the exclusive item number has no documented regulation and is based on traditions only. In the early years of the library, the most valuable and rare items were selected from the hereditary collection donated to the university by Count G. A. Stroganov and then placed in special show-windows. In addition to the first volume of the printed catalog, a specific inventory book for these items was compiled where the items' records were arranged according to show-windows.

Today, exclusive item numbers are assigned to items that fall under the definition of "Rare books".
