

UDC INDEX

The Universal Decimal Classification (UDC) is one of the systems of organizing information.

UDC code is assigned to:

- editions (books, collections, monographs);
- publications (articles, conference abstracts) in accordance with editorial policies of academic journals and collections;
- graduation papers.

To determine UDC code:

- Contact the librarians in the Research Commons or subject-specific Reading Rooms;
- Use the virtual reference service.

It is necessary to specify::

- Title of academic work;
- Faculty (specialization);
- Table of contents, key words.

To determine UDC code on your own:

Use the online UDC reference book accessible from all Research Library's computers.
